DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-10, 13-22 and 25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Marshall et al. (US Patent No. 5831596). Marshall et al. discloses the same invention as claimed: A sensor assembly for sensing angular position of an object, the assembly comprising: at least one magneto-sensing element (292, 310, etc.) having a first axis of rotation (or physical axis of rotation); and a (cylindrical) magnet (282, 303, etc.) having a second axis of rotation (or physical axis of rotation), wherein at least one of the magnet and the magneto-sensing element are rotatable relative to the other, wherein the respective axes of rotation of the magneto-sensing element and the magnet are non-coincident (see Figs 17 and 19) with respect to one another, and further wherein the magnet is magnetized along one of the following directions: and axial direction (see Figs 17 and 19) and a radial direction. More than 1 Hall effect element (292, 310, etc.) are placed around (see col. 12 line 66). Summers or subtractors are at shaping circuits 40a and 40b (see col. 6 line 31). The geometric and rotation axes of the magnet are non-coincident with respect to one another, and the magnet is magnetized along one of the following directions: an axial direction and a radial direction (see Figs 17 and 19). Shielding structure is housing 12.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 11-12 and 23-24 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
